AI is dramatically increasing the speed of software creation.

Discovery is the new bottleneck.

GitHub

+121M new repositories created in 2025.

+33% YoY repository growth.

230+ new repositories created every minute.

180M+ developers now building on GitHub.

Discovery is fragmented across GitHub repositories, launch platforms, and online communities.

Smaller products struggle to gain visibility in increasingly crowded ecosystems.

Builders need better ways to launch, distribute, and fund software.

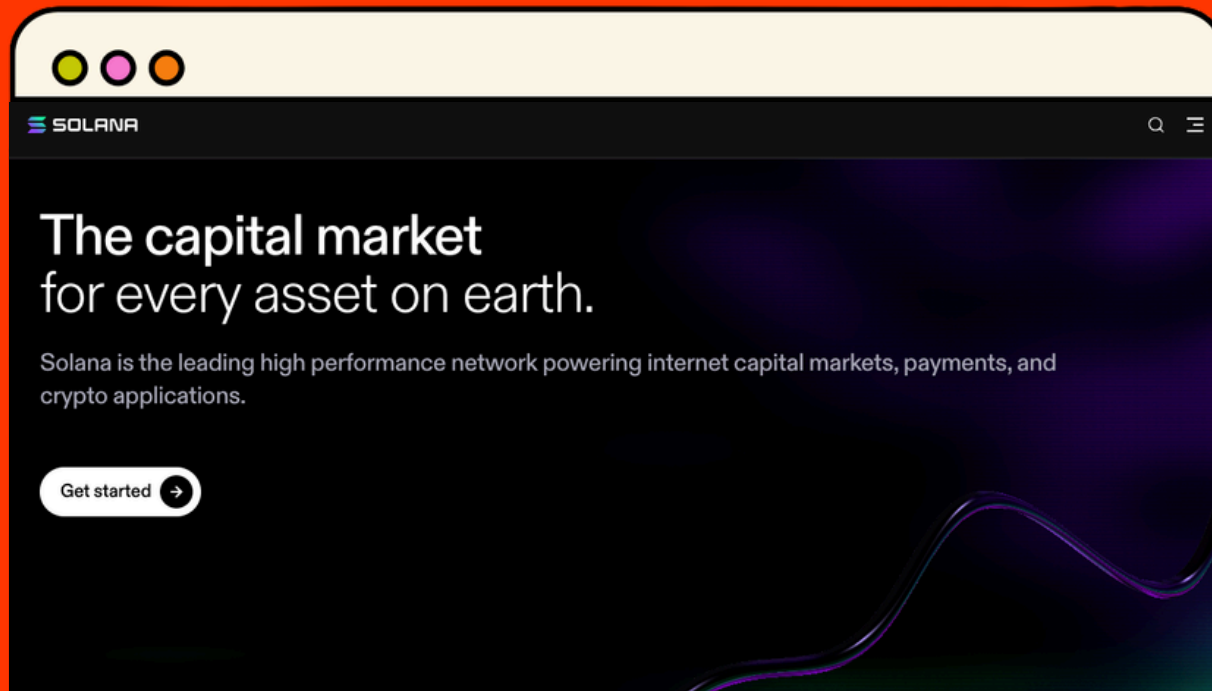

RepoRank helps developers and builders get discovered while giving them the option to launch Solana-based markets around their products.

Tokenized ecosystems allow builders to raise funding, align communities, and create new growth loops around software.

The Ecosystem is already forming.

130+ repos submitted.

100+ developers subscribed.

$REPO token launched.

350+ holders.

Entered Colosseum hackathon.

@alexattinger - Founder

15+ years building internet businesses across digital media, e-commerce, and emerging technology.

Founded and scaled multiple revenue-generating platforms including ContentClick (acquired in 2016) and Promocodes.co.uk (acquired in 2013).

Early founder of Digitalbox PLC, which later listed on the AIM market in the UK and continues to operate today.

The next generation of software products won't just launch.

They'll become markets.
